

Inner Circle Spring 2010

Darlings,

You know me. I am one greedy bitch when it comes to my pleasure and yours. I want you to go for it. So what is the thing you've been longing to experience, but have swept under the rug for fear that it's impossible? Or maybe you decided that you just weren't ready to handle the changes it would require to have this desire(s) manifest. Believe me, I get it. I've felt that way too -- especially when I've kept this part of me a secret, or tried to go it alone.

Well, darlings, there is a call I've heard. As women have graduated, questions have emerged from within the community.

- I'm looking for an opportunity to grow – what's next for me?
- How do I stay connected to this work?
- How can I be a role model for pleasure and share it with the world?
- How can I have more of what Mama's having? What's her secret?
- How can I own and yet surrender to my sensuality?

I've responded to this new call, and created a way for these questions to be answered. It's called the Inner Circle.

Now, imagine having me to support you in having the life, those desires, those dreams. Having me in your back pocket to answer your questions and quell your fears. Imagine the sisterhood of Mastery, smaller and more concentrated in an intimate group, where there is unconditional love, unparalleled support, incomparable truth telling and transparency all focused on you becoming that woman who is longing to emerge. Imagine the excitement, the pride, the high of this new you as you put the tools and arts into practice as a daily part of your life, now that you have made the commitment of going from good to better. This is Inner Circle.

This is what has had founding members sign-up for their fourth session. It is what has almost 70% of our members continue on for at least one year. It is this unbelievable program, which has birthed babies, new careers, books, and fatter bank accounts. It's what has assisted women with releasing debt, shame, and limitations on their sensuality. It's provided the structure for women to revive their relationships, deepen their intimacy with themselves and partners, and let go of those relationships that no longer serve them. It is what has lofted women to triple their salaries, own their beauty, dance when they didn't know that they could move, and feel more than they ever have. This is Inner Circle.
